

No multi-media Hazardous Weather Briefing is in effect at this time. These briefings will only be updated as our staff workload permits and are not a substitute to receiving current weather and warning information through official NWS dissemination processes.